July 15, 2011

The Honorable Jacob J. Lew
Director
Office of Management and Budget
Eisenhower Executive Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20503

The Honorable Timothy F. Geithner
Secretary
Department of the Treasury
1650 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20220

Dear Director Lew and Secretary Geithner:

On behalf of the 4.6 million federal and postal workers and annuitants represented by the undersigned management associations, labor unions and associations, we extend our deepest appreciation for your continuing efforts to raise the nation's debt ceiling.

The prospect of Congressional inaction by August 2 over raising the debt ceiling is generating significant concern throughout the federal community over its impact on the continuity of government operations. This has been underscored by President Obama's comment on July 11 that he "cannot guarantee" that the 27 million Social Security checks due out on August 3 will be mailed if the debt ceiling is not raised.

As a result, federal government and postal executives, managers and rank-and-file employees represented by our organizations seek answers to the following questions:

-- If the debt ceiling is not raised by August 2, will all departments and agencies continue to remain operational, or will a government shutdown result? If so, what plans are in place to assure the continuity of government operations?

-- How will the assets of the Civil Service Retirement and Disability Fund and the G-Fund of the Federal Employees' Retirement System be impacted, given the continued suspension of additional investments in these funds since May 16?

-- Will federal employees become subject to release through furloughs, and how will their wages and benefits be affected?

Our organizations seek a meeting with appropriate Administration officials to secure answers to these and related questions as soon as possible. Once again, thank you for your leadership to assure that our nation does not default on its financial obligations.

Sincerely yours,
